Five Generations, One Promise

The Legacy of Seth Mall Ji (1951)

In 1951, Seth Mall Ji lit the first earthen bhatti in Chowk Bazar, Kairana, guided by a simple principle: sweetness should be pure, uncompromised, and made with heart. Slowly simmering whole-cream milk over low embers, he crafted Western Uttar Pradesh's most celebrated caramelized milk pedas.

Under Inder Sain Ji, the shop became a legendary landmark—fondly called 'Pede Walo Ki Mashhoor Dukan'. Today, spanning five generations from Ashok Kumar Ji and Nishant Aggarwal Ji to Kartik Aggarwal Ji, the family still guards the original recipes, refusing artificial colors, preservatives, or chemical thickeners.

Our Four Purity Guarantees

100% Pure Desi Ghee
Every halwa, ladoo, and mathri is fried exclusively in pure cow and buffalo desi ghee. Never dalda or palm oil.

Slow-Cooked Dairy Khoya
Fresh local milk reduced for 4+ hours to attain natural caramelized sweetness without synthetic milk powders.

Zero Chemical Preservatives
Our confections rely on natural spices, cardamom, and saffron. Fresh daily batches ensure uncompromised vitality.

FSSAI Registered Hygiene
Official Govt. Registration No. 22721903000132 with strict food-grade stainless steel kitchen protocols.
